22 September 21			I chose this name because getting involved implies that there is more agency, whereas the expertise clearly lies within the NHS (and rightly so). But dialogue is contained within the title which is what the aim is, I think.

14 September 21			My thoughts are first how do you make people aware of this site and secondly what are they getting by signing up

Discussion forum: name of the platform

14 September 21	OrlaP		I chose this name as it ensures that users know this is to do with health. It's not massively catchy is my only comment but its likely a link that will be sent to someone seeking info

21 September 21	Folake		Apologies, if this is the wrong section to put this question. Will this engagement platform be a subset of the new ICS website or will it be a standalone tool? One front door to all things ICS would be preferable. That could make me rethink my choice of name.

21 September 21	rosemary.watts		Thanks Folake. The platform will be a stand alone platform with a link from the get involved page on the ICS web page as it is only available as a stand alone. Have a look at the Sussex Health and Care Partnership get involved page and how they link to the platform here https://www.sussexhealthandcare.uk/get-involved/ . We will also be able to link more visually and with the branding too.
